I, the undersigned, being an officer duly authorised in accordance with Section 74(1) and (4) of the Deregulation & Contracting Out Act 1994, to sign and issue certificates on behalf of the Comptroller-General, hereby certify that annexed hereto is a true copy of the documents as originally filed in connection with the patent application identified therein.

In accordance with the Patents (Companies Re-registration) Rules 1982, if a company named in this certificate and any accompanying documents has re-registered under the Companies Act 1980 with the same name as that with which it was registered immediately before re-registration save for the substitution as, or inclusion as, the last part of the name of the words "public limited company" or their equivalents in Welsh, references to the name of the company in this certificate and any accompanying documents shall be treated as references to the name with which it is so re-registered.

In accordance with the rules, the words "public limited company" may be replaced by p.l.c., plc, P.L.C. or PLC.

Re-registration under the Companies Act does not constitute a new legal entity but merely subjects the company to certain additional company law rules.

Warning

After an application for a patent has been filed, the Comptroller of the Patent Office will consider whether publication or communication of the invention should be prohibited or restricted under Section 22 of the Patents Act 1977. You will be informed if it is necessary to prohibit or restrict your invention in this way. Furthermore, if you live in the United Kingdom, Section 23 of the Patents Act 1977 stops you from applying for a patent abroad without first getting written permission from the Patent Office unless an application has been filed at least 6 weeks beforehand in the United Kingdom for a patent for the same invention and either no direction prohibiting publication or communication has been given, or any such direction has been revoked.

HANDLE AND AN OPERATIONAL MEMBER WHICH
FOLDS INTO AND OUT OF A SIDE OF THE HANDLE

This invention relates to a hand held device and, more especially, this invention relates to a hand held device comprising a handle and an operational member which folds into and out of a side of the handle. The operational member may be a knife blade, a screwdriver shank, a bottle opening member, or any other suitable and appropriate tool for effecting a desired operation.

In my United Kingdom Patent Application No. 0217753.3, I have disclosed a hand held device comprising a handle, an operational member which folds into and out of a side of the handle, a control member for controlling the folding of the operational member, an arm which connects the control member to the operational member, a guide groove which is in the handle and which guides the control member over a path which causes the folding of the operational member, a first connecting formation which connects the arm to the operational member, and a second connecting formation which connects the operational member to the handle, the device being such that movement of the control member along the guide groove causes the folding of the operational member via the arm, the device being such that in its closed condition the operational member is folded into the handle and the first connecting formation is further away than the second connecting formation from a first end of the handle that is remote from both the first and second connecting formations, and the device being such that in its open condition the operational member is folded out of the handle and the first connecting formation is nearer than the second connecting formation to the first end of the handle.

The purpose of the present application is to mention that the hand held device may have more than one operational member. Each one of these operational members may be extended from the handle by using its own opening mechanism comprising a control member, arm, guide groove, and first and second connecting formations. Thus, for example, the hand held device may have a first operational member operated by a first one of the opening mechanisms, a second operational member operated by a second one of the opening mechanisms, and a third operating member which does not open and shut by means of one of the operating mechanisms but is opened some other way, for example simply by a person using their fingers:
